

Join us For the Resilience Conference!

Thursday, October 12th

Please join us on the evening of October 12th for a pre-conference dinner and special screening of the film Resilience: The Biology of Stress and the Science of Hope.

This film is a one hour documentary that delves into the science of Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACES) and the power of resilience to treat and prevent Toxic Stress.

Friday, October 13th

The Resilience conference will commence the following morning, October 13th at Prosser High School. Keynote Linda Chamberlain, Ph.D. MPH, is the founding director of the Alaska Family Violence Prevention Project and a consultant for the Family Violence Prevention Fund. She specializes in childhood exposure to violence and brain development.

Dr. Chamberlain is known for her ability to translate science into practical information with diverse audiences, conveys a message of hope and opportunity and passionately believes that everyone can make a difference.
