Positive
Community Norms
Training

MOST of US[®]

What will I learn at the Positive Community Norms Training? The purpose of this two-day Positive Community Norms training is to teach participants about the Positive Community Norms approach and the theory upon which it is built: The Science of the Positive™, a transformational leadership framework, and the power of using a positive frame in efforts to create community wellness.

Who should attend? Anyone interested in learning more about changing social norms around youth substance use, mental health, or other wellness topics in your community.
