

CAPT Online Learning

The Division of Behavioral Health and Recovery, in collaboration with SAMHSA's Center for the Application of Prevention Technologies (CAPT) West Resource Team, invites you to participate in:

Ethics in Prevention: A Guide for Substance Abuse Prevention Practitioners Online Course

June 10–21, 2013

Audience

Prevention providers and coalition coordinators

Description

This web-based learning event offers substance abuse prevention professionals—both experienced and new to the field—with an opportunity to explore the role of ethics in their work. Over a two-week period, participants in this moderated course will examine the Prevention Code of Ethics' six key principles and explore a four-step decision-making model for assessing, addressing, and evaluating a range of ethical issues.

Course participants are expected to review course materials and complete a range of interactive learning activities, including a series of brief, online assignments. These activities are critical to learning, offering participants a chance to discuss course content with fellow participants, share experiences, and apply new skills. Participants should plan on spending approximately six hours completing course assignments.

Accreditation

This course has been endorsed by the International Certification and Reciprocity Consortium (IC&RC). Individuals who complete all course assignments will receive a certificate for 6 hours of participation.

Registration

Please register by May 31 at <https://www.surveymonkey.com/s/YJQ53DG> .
