

Ethics in Prevention: A Guide for Substance Use Disorder Prevention Professionals

Description

This facilitated course addresses the role and application of ethics in substance use disorder prevention. Using case studies and interactive activities, participants will explore the six principles in the Prevention Code of Ethics and learn to use a 4-step decision-making process to assess, address, and evaluate a range of ethical issues.

Date and Location

Thursday, October 26, 2023; 8:30AM – 4:30PM
The Davenport Grand, Autograph Collection
333W Spokane Falls Blvd. Spokane, WA 99201

Audience

State- and local-level substance abuse prevention providers

What will you do while participating in Prevention Ethics?

- Review course materials and learn about ethics in substance use disorder prevention.
- Complete classroom activities designed to help you better understand and explain the six principles of the Prevention Code of Ethics.
- Participate in classroom discussions and apply what you have learned by using example scenarios.

Registration

There is no registration fee for the training.

Please register by Friday, October 13th 2023 by emailing, Billy Reamer at William.reamer@hca.wa.gov

Note: Space is limited to 24 participants. You will receive an email confirming your registration by October 20th.

Accreditation

This course is endorsed by the International Certification and Reciprocity Consortium (IC&RC) for Prevention Specialist certification. The Prevention Specialist Certification Board of Washington (PSCBW) has approved this Prevention Ethics course for professionals preparing to obtain their Certified Prevention Professional (CPP) credential. You must attend the entire training and complete the course in order to gain credit. 6.5 contact education hours provided.

Additional Questions?

Please contact Billy Reamer at William.reamer@hca.wa.gov for technical issues or with other questions