

SAVE THE DATE to an AI/AN Training

Title: Ethics in Prevention: A Guide for American Indian/Alaska Native (AI/AN) Substance Use Disorder Prevention Professionals and Individuals Working Primarily with AI/AN Communities

Description

This facilitated course addresses the role and application of ethics in substance use disorder prevention. Using case studies and interactive activities, participants will explore the six principles in the Prevention Code of Ethics and learn to use a 4-step decision-making process to assess, address, and evaluate a range of ethical issues. The trainers incorporate cultural perspectives and scenarios to reflect the values, strengths, and ethical dilemmas faced among AI and AN prevention practitioners and other individuals working primarily in these communities in their daily work.

Date and Location

Thursday, October 26, 2023; 8:30AM – 4:30PM
The Davenport Grand
333W Spokane Falls Blvd. Spokane, WA 99201

Audience

Tribal State and local-level substance abuse prevention providers and individuals working primarily with AI/AN communities.

What will you do while participating in Prevention Ethics?

- Review course materials and learn about ethics in substance use disorder prevention.
- Complete classroom activities designed to help you better understand and explain the six principles of the Prevention Code of Ethics.
- Participate in classroom discussions and apply what you have learned by using example scenarios.

Registration

There is no registration fee for the training.

Please register by Friday, October 13th, 2023, by emailing, Annette Squetimkin-Anquoe at annette.squetimkin-anquoe@hca.wa.gov

Note: Space is limited to 25 participants.

Accreditation

This course is endorsed by the International Certification and Reciprocity Consortium (IC&RC) for Prevention Specialist certification. The Prevention Specialist Certification Board of Washington (PSCBW) has approved this Prevention Ethics course for professionals preparing to obtain their Certified Prevention Professional (CPP) credential. To gain credit with 6.5 contact education hours provided, you must attend the entire training and complete the course.