

Can budtenders be cannabis health risks educators?

Join us for a webinar led by Dr. Bia Carlini from the University of Washington's Alcohol & Drug Abuse Institute where she will describe findings of a series of focus groups conducted in King County that explore how cannabis retail workers "budtenders" perceive their potential role as health risks educators.

Monday, June 15, 2020
10:00 - 11:00am

Preregister by 6.12.20:
Cannabis health risks
educators

About the Presenter

Dr. Carlini, PhD, MPH leads the Cannabis Research and Education Unit at UW ADAI. Her research career has been dedicated to understanding the public health impact of legal psychoactive substances such as alcohol, inhalants, tobacco, and cannabis. Dr. Carlini is especially interested in the impact of cannabis and tobacco use on perpetuating health and social disparities.

Presented to you by the collaboration between

